NEWS OF THE WORLD

James Mullen has been arrested on suspicion, on instructions from Montreal of embezzlement. Mullen went to England with a consignment of horses from James Darling, of Toronto. He sold the horses but failed to make any returns.

Up to the 23rd ult., 4,416,000 bushels of wheat have been brought to different stations west of Winnipeg. During the same period of 1893 the amount brought was 3,040,016 bushels. During the present month 1,882,000 bushels have been delivered.

Donald McMaster, the eminent Q.C., has been retained for the defence of a case instituted by the Department of Justice against Emanuel St. Louis, contractor of the Wellington bridge.

The Georgian Bay Ship Canal and Power Association company are making Toronto a new offer. This time they want to supply the city with water for all purposes as well as light, heat and power.

A wagon containing a party returning from a dance were struck by the Big Four and five of the merry makers killed.

A memorial is to be erected at McGill University to the memory of the late Peter Redpath, one of the University's most generous patrons.

The question of grain mixing is to be brought before government by the Montreal Corn Exchange Association.

Rev. Dr. Chiniquy is considerably better and it is now believed the rev. gentleman will recover.

Fire did $7,000 worth of damage to the premises of Withrow & Hillock, Toronto, refrigerator manufacturers.

An explosion of six tons of dynamite in the storage house of J. R. Sharp, Chippewa Falls, Wis., leaves uncertain the fate of Paul Bruhn, and destroyed $4,000 of property and created a general panic.

Although Chastelle, the confessed murderer of Jessie Keith, claims he is not Jack-the-Ripper the Attorney General's department will at once forward his picture to London to see if the two women of the twelve who were attacked by this modern Minotaur, and who escaped, can recognized him. Chastelle's appearance corresponds to the description given of the White Chapel fiend.

Five hundred negroes who sail for Liberia the latter part of this week, to find homes in the African Republic, comprise the first part of forty of 3,000 negroes who will sail during November.

A media Chastelle, the Lotowel murderer was born in St. Hyacinthe, is fifty two years of age and has a number of very reputable relatives there. He was a sailor for thirty years. For nine months, some one years ago he was in Taunton, Mass., insane asylum, and was discharged as cured.

A BIG DOLLARS WORTH.

The Winnipeg Daily Tribune, which is acknowledged to have—even by rival publishers—the largest circulation of any paper published in Canada west of Lake Superior, is now offering great inducements to intending subscribers. It can be obtained from now to January 1st, 1896, for $1—a very slight advance on the cost of the white paper used in its publication. At its regular price of $1 a year the Weekly Tribune is certainly extra value, and with the balance of this year free the offer becomes an extraordinary one. The fact that the Weekly Tribune reaches more homes than any paper published, is strong evidence that it is recognized as the greatest family newspaper. It publishes Dr. Talmage's sermon each week, and gives more Manitoba and Northwest news than all the other Winnipeg papers put together. He is its specialty interesting to the settler, as a most every district is represented. It can be had from now to the end of the year by sending $1 to the Tribune publishing Co., Winnipeg.

PRINCE ALBERT, OCT. 30, 1894.

Those who are making a study of the "signs of the times" will, no doubt, find food for reflection in the death of the Russian Autocrat, Alexander III. We believe that it was mainly through his influence that the peace of Europe has been maintained so long. Who knows but that the calm which the nations are enjoying at present may not be ere long succeeded by a fierce storm. The two gigantic forces which now stand in opposition to each other, must soon engage in deadly conflict. We refer to Great Britain and Russia. They are the representatives of the two forces that are seeking to gain supremacy in the moral world; namely civilization and barbarism. In Great Britain we have just and equitable laws, learning and science flourish, and the light of the Gospel has a more beneficial effect upon its people that it has on any other nation under heaven. On the other side Russia has the unenviable reputation of being the most cruel, ignorant, superstitious and degraded nation under the sun. It is conceded by every intelligent writer on the duration of the present dispensation that we are on the eve of some stupendous change. Everything seems to be in a state of commotion and restlessness, both as regards the human family and nature itself. There is every reason to believe that he who now ascends the throne of Russia is not so peaceably inclined as his predecessor. Russia is itching to lay her her hand upon Constantinople, the gate of the Black Sea. This England will never allow without a struggle. Again, England and Russia are watching each other's movements in the East with a lynx eyed intensity. The outlook at present wears a gloomy aspect, and it is hard to predict what a day may bring forth.

It would seem by the latest news to hand that the long talked of Hudson Bay Railway is about seeing daylight, and that it is now to be pushed with energetic vigor. A department has been established at Ottawa for the purpose of superintending the Dominion interests in connection with the work, and it appears that the Government has determined to push the road to completion at the earliest possible moment. This turn in the affairs of the Hudson Bay Railroad goes to show that the assertions made by Mr. Laurier, on his western trip, regarding the indifference of the Government respecting the road are without foundation.

The recent horrible murder of Jessie Keith at Listowel, Ont. is the most atrocious deed that has ever taken place in Ontario, and indeed we might almost say, in the whole Dominion. The mere recital of it causes our blood to run cold. To kill his victim, while the other does not get satisfied with that but must needs mangle and mutilate the object of his rage. We remember in the early days of Winnipeg of two cases somewhat similar to that of Jessie Keith; viz. the murder of Thomas Scott by Riel and his gang, and the murder of James Brown by the soldier Michaud. In both these cases there was a vindictiveness exhibited which, thank God, is rarely met with among the more placid Saxon race.

The star that shone so brilliantly in Quebec so recently has gone down in darkness. Who would have thought a few years ago that Mr. Mercier, the idol of the people of Quebec, the favorite son of the Church, the recipient of the Pope's blessing, would in so short a time fall from his pinnacle of glory with his reputation tarnished, his fame eclipsed and his body laid in the grave on a par with the meanest pauper! Alas! his pomp, his vanity, his grandeur, are all gone for ever, and the place that knew him will know him again no more. Such is the instability of all human titles and all human preferments.

The election contest in Prince Albert West is over and we are glad that our townsman, Mr. J. Lestock Reid has won the battle. With all due respect to Mr. Campbell we consider Mr. Reid as the most fitting man for the position; his thorough knowledge of the requirements of the country will, we think, make him to be a very useful member. With respect to Prince Albert East the decision still hangs in the balance. The country near Cumberland is yet to be heard from, what effect that will have on the election it is just now hard to say, but as Mr. Betts is now 54 ahead we hope to have the satisfaction of seeing him come out of the fray on the winning side.

Neale, the absconding customs collector, of Fort Macleod, is to serve seven years in Stony Mountain penitentiary for his crime. He stole $5,976 20, and returned $4,760. But this repentance and restitution had no influence on stern justice.

A New York convict has discovered the secret of perpetual life. It consists of unlimited alcohol. Unfortunately the discoverer of the new elixir is not in a position to put his theory to the test. But he is not alone in his misfortune. There are other people who consider alcohol a necessity of life and are debarred from its use by gaol rulers.

The highest paid entertainer of the day is said to be Dr. Talmage, who is making $1,000 a night on his lecturing tour in Australia. The reason is not that Dr. Talmage is more learned, or more able, or more spiritually minded than the fellow countrymen, but he knows the art of self advertisement, and he knows how to make the religious public to his glorious.

The Panell Paris fund has at last been paid over to the McCarthyites. This may have a good effect in stopping the quarrels which have lately been so marked a feature of the Irish Parliamentary's party history. A man who comes into good fortune is generally good natured for a while after it.

Telegrams from London report the destruction of a number of Christian missionary establishments in China, figures or the information of many people in Canada who are strongly prejudices against immigration of this character. It would be worth while to have the question definitely settled by governmental enquiry.

The arrival of a considerable sized party of Norwegian immigrants in British Columbia is a gratifying fact. Canada has never been been able yet to capture any considerable proportion of the stream of Norse immigration which has filled the western states with an industrious, intelligent and lawabiding people. Though the British Columbian detachment was a small one it is one of the largest this country has yet received, and may be the start of a movement of more satisfactory proportions.

Simply Awful

Worst Case of Scrofula the Doctors Ever Saw

Completely Cured by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

"When I was 4 or 5 years old I had a scrofulous sore on the middle finger of my left hand, which got so bad that the doctors cut the finger off, and later took off more than half my hand. Then the sore broke out on my arm, came out on my neck and face on both sides, nearly destroying the sight of one eye, also on my right arm. Doctors said it was the they ever saw. It was simply awful! Five years ago I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Gradually I found that the sores were beginning to heal. I kept on till I had taken ten bottles, ten dollars! Just think of what a return I got for that investment! A thousand per cent? Yes, many thousand. For the past 4 years I have had no sores. HOW IS THIS?

Something new even in these days of mammoth premium offers, it is the latest effort of Stafford's Magazine, a New York monthly of home and general reading.

The proposition is to send the Magazine one year for one dollar, the regular subscription price, and in addition to send each subscriber fifty-two complete novels during the twelve months, one each week.

Think of it. You receive a new and complete novel by mail, post paid, every week for fifty-two weeks and in addition you get the magazine once a month for twelve months, all for one dollar. It is an offer which the publishers can only afford to make in the confident expectation of getting a hundred thousand new subscribers. Among the authors of the coming series are Wilkie Collins, Walter Besant, Mrs. Oliphant, Mary Cecil Hay, Florence Marryat, Anthony Trollope, A. Conan Doyle, Miss Braddon, Captain Marryat, Miss Thackeray and Jules Verne. If you wish to take advantage of this unusual opportunity to send one dollar for Stafford's Magazine one year. Your first copy of the magazine and your first number of the fifty-two novels you are to receive each week you are to receive during the year will be sent you by return mail. Remit by P.O order, registered letter or express.

The Manitoba Free Press in speaking of the Uxbridge Piano says: They are genuine works of art, and reflect the highest credit upon the firm which has produced them. The old style of upright pianos is thrown into the shade. The Uxbridge Piano has a continuous book rack which will be appreciated in the playing of duets; sitting down to the piano the performer touches a lever and the keyboard is uncovered, and the hinges of the lid turn out of sight, and the instrument presents the same artistic appearance when open as when shut. The Organs manufactured by the Uxbridge company have been in use for over twenty years, and require no special description as they are so well-known and liked in the homes of the thousands over the whole world However, the company is manufacturing a six Oct. Organ in Piano case which is having a wonderful sale. The Piano made by the Uxbridge Piano Co. are a credit to Canadian enterprise, being equal in tone, durability and finish to the best American.

The regular monthly meeting of the School Board took place Thursday evening last. The principal business was the discussion of the advisability of putting in a system of dry earth closets for the use of the school. The general conduct of the school was reported to be working in a very satisfactory manner.

It will be for both curling and skating, and will be used both in the daytime and at night. The electric light will be used for illuminating purposes. The curlers will use this rink and we hope all skaters will take advantage of the chance of a good skate during the coming season. Mr. Borthwicks enterprise deserves encouragement and I we hope he will get it.

Warhorn's Guide for November contains the latest changes in time cards notably Pembina Branch service on the C P R the Great Northern and Galt Line, new schedules and gives particulars of the winter rates of Atlantic steamer- and sailings though it gives us ano her reminder of the near approach of winter by leaving out the lake sailings and we find out by reference to the weather report published therein for this month last year, that the river was frozen over on the 5th November. A new county Court map is published including all changes of boundaries to date, also a new list of the revised fees charged for Torrens titles is given and the general business tables contain all changes to date.

A special meeting of the Town Council was held Saturday evening, His Worship Mayor Davis, and Couns. Baker, Knox and McKay being present, as were also the town solicitor, Mr. Kidd and his miller. The object of the meeting was to conclude the agreement between Mr. Kidd and the town. In committee of the whole with Coun. Baker in the chair, the several carefully prepared papers were discussed at length. The agreement is very binding on Mr. Kidd, who is to maintain and work the mill to its stated capacity for five years; nor can he sell or transfer the property during that period, unless with the consent of the Council. The flour manufactured has to be equal to that of any other roller mill in the country, and he is bound to give in exchange for wheat of a grade not inferior to No. 2 hard not less than thirty pounds of flour, nine pounds bran and four pounds shorts. Mr Kidd gives the town as security a first class mortgage on the buildings and grounds for five years, to be discharged at the rate of $2000 a year if conditions are faithfully carried out. The building by-law was in favor of the town. The committee appointed by the Council to test the mill reported favorably, showing that during an hour's test the mill had produced 910 pounds of flour. The Council authorized the mayor and clerk to sign the agreement, etc., and pay over the bonus to Mr Kidd.

The December issue of the Delineator, which is called "The Christmas Number," is always a notable edition of this favorite magazine, and this year it is full of unusually good things. Many of the contributions have the distinctive flavor of the season, among them being Christmas Cheer Gifts and giving, A Plaudit for Christmas and A Christmas Exercise. In the Kindergarten Series the subject is Christmas work for the Children, and the chapters on Venetian Iron Work and Crepe and Tissue Papers also treats of articles suitable for presentation. Barnard College (New York City) is the subject of an able paper by a graduate of '93, and there is a practical and helpful article on Photo-negative Retouching as an employment for women. The initial chapter of a series on the Relations of Mother and Son opens the subject interestedly, the second instalment of the House discusses sensibly the matter of furnishing, and the continuation of what to do in illness will be of great benefit to every mother. In the popular Tea Table Talks is found gossip about seasonable affairs, there is an art cle on Fur Rugs and Robes, and the newest book are noticed. New designs are shown in knitting, netting tatting, crochetting, lace making, etc. The subscription price of the Delineator is $1 00 a year. A CIRCUS and a circus on circus day are two kinds of a thing. The greatest circus is usually on the Bill-boards, and the circus on Circus Day is consequently a disappointment. There is, of course, the occasional exception which proves the rule. McCormick Binders and Mowers are an exception. Their promise on the "Bill-boards" is always fulfilled on "Circus Day." For years the makers of McCormick Grain and Grass Harvesters have been telling the World that they could and would at any time demonstrate the superiority of their machines in the actual competitive field test. The "Bill-boards" of other manufacturers have glaringly proclaimed that their machines are the best. But "Circus Day" came at length. The World's Fair urged all these manufacturers to take their machines into the field that the results might be compared. The McCormick was there; its show went on. It's promises to the World were carried out. But how about the other "great and onlys"? They stayed at home consoling themselves with the reflection that "the people like to be humbugged," and their artists got up new pictures for the "Bill-boards." Before deciding about going into these field trials, the competitors of the McCormick went and examined the crops to be cut, and realizing the severity of the conditions, they said to themselves: "We don't propose to come here and compete with the McCormick;"—"a live coward is better than a dead hero;"—"a sucker is born every minute, and we'll catch some of 'em anyway." That policy may answer for the "Bill-board" sort of circus; it will not do for the McCormick. Promises must not be broken. If McCormick machines are not better than all others, they must not be so advertised. If they are so advertised, every Binder, every Reaper and every Mower must be ready at a moment's notice to go out into the field and show up. That's business. Write to the McCormick Harvesting Machine Co., Chicago,—or, better yet, call at once on your nearest McCormick agent.

LIFE IN RUPERT'S LAND

IN THE OLDEN TIME.

By James Stewart.

TWELFTH PAPER.

The Council was held at Norway House where all the officers of the Hudson's Bay Company, Chief Factors and Chief Traders, came together to consult upon matters relating to the fur trade. These were the palmy days of the Hudson's Bay Company. Furs commanded a high price in the European markets and there were no free traders. The Company ruled supreme and there was no opposition throughout all the country between Hudson's Bay and British Columbia.

The Governor, Sir George Simpson, therefore came up from Montreal to hold the Council at Norway House every spring bringing with him a number of French habitants from the province of Quebec to serve the Company some of these were also left at Norway House. There were congregated at Norway House a mixture of Aberdians, Shetlanders and Highlanders from the western islands of Scotland, together with a goodly number of French from the province of Quebec.

In 1851-52, which was my first winter at Norway House, there were about forty or fifty men stationed there, of the total number I think there were about sixteen from Scotland, the rest were chiefly French or half-breeds. These all lived in one house which was called the men's house. At each end beds, or rather bunks were fitted up in a double tier, one above another, there was only one room in the house and it was heated with one big stove in the middle.

I had only been two days at the Post when I was sent across the lake, which is called Moose's lake, with an Indian and his wife to assist at the fall fishing. I found this very lonesome at first, as I, of course, could not speak a word of Indian and my companions could speak but little English but nevertheless they were very kind to me, which was a pleasing contrast to the treatment I had received on my way from York Factory. Their manner of fishing was very different from that I had been accustomed to on the coast of Scotland, but however I very soon became an adept at it. I soon learned to work the nets and as I had known the art of making nets in Orkney I soon became a tolerable fisherman. Notwithstanding the difficulty of understanding each other I passed the time very agreeably with my companions. They were Christian Indians from Rossville a Wesleyan mission house about two miles from Norway House. They had been baptized in the Christian faith. This couple had no children there were only three of us at the station, and were it not that I felt somewhat lonesome I was well enough.

The woman was very handy with her needle and was almost constantly employed in embroidering in silk or bead work upon dressed deer or moose skin, for making moccasins or tobacco pouches or what was called in those days a fire bag. As working outside or travelling in cold winter weather pockets would be inconvenient the fire bag took their place. The bag was generally made cloth or dressed deer skin, but in other case they were richly adorned with silk or bead work. They were often oblong form and were hung upon a belt which was worn around the body. The outer side was ornamented very highly with gaudy fringes at the lower edge, this bag was the general receptacle for everything required on the journey, such as flint, steel and tinder box (there were no matches in those days) pipe, tobacco, knife and sundry other articles. In my young days I made some pretentions to draw flowers, leaves of trees, etc. Therefore I drew some of these things on paper for Mrs. Budd as a model to work upon, which of course highly pleased the lady and in consequence I was quite at home with these people.

There was one old costume which I noticed the woman had and which for a time puzzled me not a little and that was that while she was at work she was constantly moving her jaws as if chewing something. Having never seen any person doing this I wondered what was the cause and thought that perhaps the Indian female belonged to the order Ruminantia or that class which chew the cud. At length getting better acquainted with her ladyship I one day ventured to ask the reason of this peculiar custom. She very readily told me it was pitch she was chewing and she gave me a piece and made sign for me to chew it, which I tried to do, but finding it somewhat bitter to my taste, I was glad to spit it out. How we practice makes perfect, and so learned afterwards to chew gum with a relish.

In about three weeks time the winter set in fairly, some snow had fallen and the ice began to form on the lake. Therefore we got orders to return to Norway House which place we arrived at on the first of November. This being All Saints day it was observed as a holiday at the Fort. I was glad to meet with some of my comrades again who had come out from the Orkney with me. There were about eight of us altogether, of the others some had been left at Oxford House, some had gone to Saskatchewan and some to Red River. Thus by degrees we were gradually separated, never to meet again.

I had now some time to look around me and see the place. Norway House is prettily situated at the mouth of the Jack river. This river derives its name from the great numbers of pike which swarm in it, the pike here being called Jackfish. The pike in French is called the Brochet. Hence the French call this river La Riviere Brochet.

CHATELLE'S CAREER TRACED.

Stratford, Ont., Oct. 27.—The confessed monstrosity, Almeda Chatelle, is safely confined in the jail here. A double watch is kept upon his movements and every precaution is taken that he shall not escape the impending punishment for the murder of poor little Jessie Keith.

Repulsive in appearance, with a brutal nature outlined on his coarse face, the man is an object of loathing to the morbidly inclined callers who call for a sight of him.

That Chatelle murdered the girl in a fit of lust is now believed. He became a fiend when she resisted him.

The Attorney-General of Ontario will send a photograph of the brute to Scotland Yard in London, where they will be submitted for recognition to the two women callers who are believed to have escaped from Jackie-the-Ripper, who killed ten women in Whitechapel.

It has been ascertained that the accused has a half brother at St. Hyacinthe, named E. Chatelle, who is a dry goods merchant.

Chatelle is a French Canadian, but says he has no religion.

Chatelle is not a coward. The authorities will watch him as they have not not watched a prisoner in Stratford jail for many a day. The hearth-stone is a man of superb physical condition. His flesh is firm and pink, his muscles strong and flexible as a prize-fighter's. There is not a weak spot about him. His big hands, large chest and massive stooped shoulders.

HIS EARLY CAREER

A special despatch from St. Hyacinthe says that Almeda Chatelle was born in town 52 years ago. He has two brothers and several sisters alive and married there who are fearfully distressed over the terrible news of the manner in which he took Jessie Keith's life on Oct. 19.

In his youth Chatelle was one of the altar boys in the Roman Catholic church and was rather a commonplace youth.

While in his teens, however, he became restless, and disappeared from St. Hyacinthe. No tidings of the missing boy reached his parents, who mourned him as one dead. Fifteen years after Chatelle returned to her, Baptiste Chatelle died, and his mother died several years after.

Chatelle was away thirty years. No one knew him and few could recall his early residence in St. Hyacinthe. He was wedded shortly after his return and started to settle down. He worked on the new electric Light Company's work until September, when he left the vicinity, and nothing was heard of him until his arrest on the charge of murder.

The annals of the criminal courts contain many cases of heartless and brutal crimes, but in all the list has confessed to be guilty of

BEFORE THE MAGISTRATE.

Chatelle was quickly arraigned before Magistrate Ferguson, of Listowel, and charged with the murder of Jessie Keith.

"How do you plead?" was asked.

Chatelle slowly stood up and said "Guilty."

There was a sensation in the court room. Chatelle took all precautions and was apparently comfortable and pleased. The close of the crowd to "criticize him," "Hang him," was received the below.

Though he pleaded guilty the investigations that follow it evidence of a connected must be put in. Evidence was done and some additional testimony was put in. Dr. Rutherford found traces of blood on the underclothing of the stamp.

The prisoner really met his guilt.

The prisoner was raised through the excited crowd outside by two or three lady constables. He was temporarily confined in the waiting room, every precaution being taken to guard against an outbreak on the part of the enraged residents of the town. All sort of inflammatory speeches were heard on every side.

To the officers Chatelle made a confession of the details of his horrible crime. In his first desires, in the resistance of the poor girl Jessie Keith, and the incidents brought to mind as he told, and the details of which he professes to consider a thing.

The prisoner was put on the straw-lined jail at midnight, where he will be locked to remain until the Spring Assizes.

He says he does not care what becomes of him, they can kill him at the time they wish. A close watch will be kept on him to see that he does not commit suicide.

MERCIER IS DEAD.

Montreal, Oct. 30.—Honore Mercier died this morning about a quarter to nine o'clock. The end had been expected any time during the preceding twenty-four hours. Drs. Lacompagnie and Rattray were his medical attendants, and the last rites of the church were administered by Rev. Father Gerard, S.J. It was a remarkable fact that a spirit medium about ten days ago had foretold that the end would come on the thirtieth of October. Yesterday Mr. Mercier was unconscious most of the time. For ten hours of the day he lay in a comatose condition. Mr. Mercier in his prime must have weighed close on to 185 pounds. His dead body is now a mere skeleton so much had he wasted away.

Honore Mercier, ex-premier of Quebec was in poor health for years before the symptoms of diabetes made themselves unmistakeably evident. For more than two months in hospital in Montreal, but on Friday week last he was removed to his home. Mr. Mercier was born in 1840, sat in the Commons for Iberville from 1872 to 1874. In 1879 he entered the Quebec Government as Solicitor-General in the July government to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. P. Bachand. From 1887 to 1892 he was Premier of Quebec, and in the latter year his government was defeated by an overwhelming majority.
